The Editor's Desk

It is the start of a New Year. My resolution is to dance more.

One thing I would like you all to notice in this issue is the "Picture Time" section. All of the pictures in this section were taken by you all. I will admit I solicited specific Toys-for-Tots pictures from someone who I know takes good pictures, but the spread of Friendship Squares pictures of both their Christmas Dinner-Dance and New Year's Eve Dance were taken by the club. Cell phone pictures are quite adequate. The only thing I request is that when you email them to me please set them at the highest resolution possible. With 4-6 pictures I can make a half page spread featuring your club. With 6-10 I can make up a full page. Let other dancers see how much fun it is to dance with your club.

The other item of importance is mentioned by both Bob Lawn in his presidents column, and by Gary Felton in his NCASDLA column: the CALLERLAB proposal. I touched on this in the last issue. I would encourage you to discuss it with your fellow dancers and your caller. We need to do something to stop the attrition of both dancers and callers. (The latter was brought home again with Virgil's stroke a couple of weeks ago.) Clearly something has to change. It is my intention to go to the CALLERLAB convention in April in Greenville SC to report on the convention.

For this proposal to be a success we will need to end the continual push for dancers to keep dancing at higher levels. While there should be nothing to prevent dancers from learning higher levels, we need to realize that we all depend on new dancers to keep our passion healthy. I would like to encourage all dancers to attend at least half of their dances at the lower levels. This would provide support to the critical new dancers.

Until next issue

The WASCA President's Corner

*Bob Lawn & Martha Thompson
(WASCA Presidents 2023-2024)*

As a reminder from the last message, at the WASCA Board meeting on Oct 27th two changes were approved. Because of ongoing health issues, Joe Saltel has informed us that he will be unable to call at the WASCA Festival in 2025. In a follow up Facebook post this week he does not seem to be improving. Keep Joe in your prayers. Bill Harrison has agreed to take Joe's place.

The Board has eliminated the last sentence in the information on proper square dance attire. Square dance attire is not required after 6pm, but dancers are expected to dress responsibly.

Make your reservations for both the Festival and Hotel as soon as possible. There will be a price increase for registration on March 1, 2025.

As most of you have heard, CALLERLAB has a suggestion that we reorganize our entry programs for the Square Dance Activity into two square dance programs the first consisting of no more than 50 calls the second consisting of more than 50 calls. The first filling, what today are the promoted Basic/SSD/Mainstream events and the second filling what today are promoted as Plus events. The callerlab Board of Governors believe this change will eliminate the current confusion between all of our current programs. For more information go to the caller lab website and look at "THE PROPOSAL' Express your concerns and thoughts to your CALLERLAB member callers.

The information above came from the USDA News, Oct-Dec Issue.

The Proposal

There is a proposal to create a single-entry level for Square Dancing. It is necessary to understand some history to understand the driving forces and the logic behind them. The longer you have been dancing, the more of this history you will be familiar with.

Square Dancing has two different consumer groups. We have our club dancers (group 1) and our non-dancers (group 2). Our club dancers are active square dancers. We have established ways to promote square dancing to this customer: flyers, listings on club websites, and even Facebook posts. This customer already wants the product and knows where to find it.

The second group, these non-dancers, also have another name: potential new dancers. This consumer knows next to nothing about square dancing or even that it exists in their community. Our goal with this second consumer group is to teach new dancers how to dance so they become members of group 1, active square dancers.

History and the Problems we have Developed

We've let our product evolve to our liking and modified the pathway from group 2 to group 1 to deliver what we want: accomplished dancers who can dance the Plus program, with all its complexity, right out of lessons. This happened over time as follows:

- Not enough separation between lists made moving from Basic to Mainstream easy, virtually eliminating the use of the Basic and Mainstream programs. As a result, lessons went from 12 to 20 nights.
- Active square dancers desired more and decided based on what "They" wanted. As a result, beginners found it harder to learn and there was a longer time before getting what they came for, i.e., club dancing.

- Callers introduced more calls to entertain active square dancers, and group 1 loved it. Callers introduced more complicated choreography to entertain active square dancers. I think a lot of group 1 loved it.

- For a new dancer, the journey became 20 weeks of class with a higher expectation of call knowledge and execution.

- Active square dancer's acceptance of beginners who couldn't keep up with them waned.

- Class length was changed to 25 weeks so beginners could learn enough to keep up. As a result, beginners found it even harder to learn and even longer before getting what they came for.

- Active square dancers oversaw running clubs and hiring callers, continued to make decisions based on what "They" wanted, and they wanted more! The result was 28 additional calls and the Plus program.

- Callers saw a new revenue stream: teaching Mainstream dancers to dance Plus and starting Plus clubs.

- Mainstream was eliminated in many areas of the country and replaced with Plus clubs. As a result, the journey for a new dancer became a full year of class with high expectations of call knowledge and execution.

The timeline for this evolution was through the 1970s and 1980s and into the 1990s. Many of the calls became more challenging. The state of today's Plus dancing incorporates approximately 96 calls and contains a greater degree of difficulty associated with the calls. Depending on where the location of your class is, you could enter square dancing as a Basic dancer, a Mainstream dancer, a Plus dancer, or an SSD dancer.

Overlayed on top of these changes in Square Dancing were changes in society. People have become less willing to commit, so classes are less attractive. Electronic entertainment options have exploded. Three network TV channels and a PBS channel have now become 315 cable channels, internet streaming of programs, uncountable interactive web sites, and social media. It is very easy for someone in group 2 to decide that there are other things more attractive than working and committing to becoming a part of group 1.

Demographic Shift

There has been a shift in square dancing demographics between the late 1950s and today. The dancers are older on average than they were in square dancing's heydays, and the number of dancers has decreased since about 1975 when we shifted from holding two or three classes a year to only one. These two shifts coincided with square dancing becoming more complex.

A second shift occurred in response to the pandemic shutdown. Normal dancer attrition continued for the roughly three years that dancing was shut down. However, no new dancers came into the activity for that period. As a result, when dancing resumed, there were three years of dancer losses to contend with, which resulted in a number of clubs folding and significantly reducing the number of the clubs that survived.

That brings us to where we are today. There are fewer clubs, and clubs are much smaller. Numerous weekends and festivals have ceased. Our remaining dancer population is older, and our recruitment is not keeping up with attrition.

Enter SSD

Many years before March of 2020, a few callers decided to focus on teaching a reduced list of calls and keeping the teaching time down so that they could teach two or more classes per year. There was more to the concept than just higher recruitment, but this was the basic concept behind SSD (Social Square Dancing). Before SSD, a similar approach called the Condensed Teaching Method (CTM) came out with a list similar to SSD and a packet to help callers implement it. Unfortunately, it fizzled, but the material can still be found on the CALLERLAB website.

In the years since resuming dancing following the pandemic shutdown, there has been another change, and that is the growth of the SSD program. Made up of around 70 fundamental calls (much like square dancing during the period of sustained growth), SSD has breathed fresh life into many square dancing clubs, offering a streamlined, accessible format that makes it easier for newcomers to get started and allowing for multiple classes in a year. Where the clubs made a commitment to SSD, it has changed the clubs. The SSD program has generally not been successful in those clubs that did not embrace the SSD list as their primary dance level.

The increase in dancer numbers now occurring in SSD clubs is sustainable growth, with a steady flow of new dancers who become club members. The average age of a dancer in the SSD program is younger, perhaps because the program is crafted for people who have busy schedules, allowing more people to participate when they can. In some instances, gains from SSD have erased losses experienced during and before the pandemic shutdown.

The reversal of dancer populations using SSD has set the stage for the Proposal.

The Proposal

Currently, a concept called "The Proposal" from CALLERLAB's Executive Committee (EC) is taking shape. It proposes a "new" program that is much like SSD and is intended to be an entry-level program as sustainable as SSD. This does not mean it will be SSD. Just as SSD is different from the CTM, this new entry-level program will likely be different from SSD.

The idea seeks to reduce the number of programs recognized by CALLERLAB and create a single-entry program with around 50 calls (more like 70 calls because of how calls are grouped in "families").

This is an opportunity to set a course that would drive the future growth of square dancing.

The Proposal is simple at its core. Scrap everything below A1, then reinstate only two programs: the first, an entry program with no more than 50 calls, and the second with no less than 50.

There are many reasons to be on either side of the issue. The EC and the CALLERLAB Board of Governors have worked hard to explain the logic behind the change and why it's necessary and timely. Disagreements with the logic are expected, but discussion is healthy.

Note that the CALLERLAB Executive Committee is presenting this proposal to the CALLERLAB membership. Any changes to the program structure would need to be approved by a vote of the entire membership. The specific program committee would determine the actual calls on each list.

Five videos discussing "The Proposal" are available to CALLERLAB members. The timeline is given on “The Proposal” webpage, and the implementation of the two new lists is projected to be September 2026, in time for the fall class start.

I know many dancers see that we are losing dancers (and clubs) at an alarming rate, and a shorter entry time frame is essential. I’m unsure if dancers are aware that Mainstream (or whatever the entry program is called) will shrink to 50 calls and Plus (or whatever we rename the next program) will have to grow to more than 50 calls.

“The Proposal” is a means to move CALLERLAB forward. It allows CALLERLAB to form committees to craft the first and second programs and ensures that callers will have input on how and why particular calls are placed in one of the two programs.

Moving Forward

After reading everything I could find, I have some philosophical questions. Should we be trying to minimize the number of calls as a first priority? That implies we should strike either Slide Thru or Star Thru. What would either choice lead to?

Should we examine calls (and variations) with an eye to reducing the level of difficulty? For instance, should we state that Swing Thru from same-sex facing should be excluded from the entry program?

What would be the basis for picking one of two similar calls? Specifically, in the case of Dive Thru versus Pass to the Center, what would be the reason to prefer one over the other?

Is the possibility of DBD at the entry program something to be encouraged, discouraged, or ignored?

What is an appropriate name for this entry program?

Right here and right now, none of these questions are important. “The Proposal” does not intend to address all these questions. That is why CALLERLAB forms committees. We CALLERLAB members need to remain focused on the task and the ask at hand which is to start on a course of change.

The Resolution, which the membership will vote on at its 50th Convention, will be in writing and presented as outlined in CALLERLAB’s procedures in the Call to Convention DIRECTION for the membership. (DIRECTION is CALLERLAB’s bi-monthly newsletter/communications vehicle.) That DIRECTION goes out in February 2025. Following the publication of the Call to Convention DIRECTION, the CALLERLAB Membership will engage in online discussions, followed by in-person discussion at the Convention, an in-person vote, and a full membership vote on any resolutions presented.

Ramifications for Dancers

You may have more dancers. Do you need to think about a larger hall?

You need to decide what new programs are fun for you. Be sure to try each of them several times to decide. Choosing both is OK.

You must understand that after three years of classes, you, the extremely experienced dancer, maybe in the minority. This is a paradigm shift.

If your club is extremely successful, the cost of a dance might even decrease.

The decision to make this change may be heart-wrenching for a club. Some may say “I don’t want to dance that simpler program – it’s boring!” “No one will come to dance with us if we change our dance program!” Every club must contend with these types of objections and fears when considering this change.

There certainly are more ramifications. These are the best guesses on my part.

Ramifications for Callers

You may have more dancers. (We will need more callers)

You may have a bigger paycheck.

You may have more bookings.

You will have to do homework to learn to teach a different program. (The definitions won’t change, but what you teach, and the teaching order may need modification)

You will have to do homework to learn how to entertain using approximately 50 calls. In fact, you may have to focus more on entertainment and less on choreography.

I sincerely hope that this article spurs discussion in and among dancer groups. I encourage everyone to talk with club officers and your callers and express your concerns and opinions.

*Note: Some material for this article was shamelessly stolen from the last two issues of Buddy Weaver’s American Square Dance (<https://www.americansquaredance.com>), the CALLERLAB website (www.callerlab.org), an article by Mike Seastrom, emails with Teresa Berger, and a few other items I’ve seen but don’t remember the source.

RDTA President's Message

by
Ken & Berni Ryder

Dear WASCA dancer friends:

We hope everyone has enjoyed a safe, healthy and Happy 2024 Holiday season. We really enjoyed seeing and dancing with many of our WASCA dance friends at the 49th annual Toys for Tots dance on Sunday, December 8. This was a very special dance dedicated to the memory of long-time caller and Toys for Tots supporter -- our cherished friend Mac McCall. All attendees enjoyed sharing the moment with Phyllis McCall and her three daughters and son who were able to join us. This year the dance was in a new locale -- the Glenmont United Methodist Church in Silver Spring MD. While the location differed, round dancers thoroughly enjoyed dancing to many of their favorite "seasonal" tunes cued by Christine Eum and Ken Ryder.

We know that many of you enjoyed the special Christmas and New Years Eve party dances at various WASCA clubs during this Holiday season. Berni and I were joined by several WASCA area dancers dancing into the New Year 2025 with Barbara and Wayne Blackford at the "barn" in Columbia Sc.

As we move into 2025, there are a number of special round dancing events coming up over the next couple of months where we will look forward to seeing and dancing with many of you. Mark your calendars first for the Virginia State Convention at the Holiday Inn Hotel & Conference Center in Virginia Beach on February 20 - 22 2025. The convention will feature 7 teaches -- 2 phase IIIs, and 5 phase IVs --, 9 hours of 2x2 dancing and 13.5 hours of phase II-IV and II-V dancing. An alphabetic list of all the programmed round dances appears later in this issue. See the flyer later in this issue and come on down and "let the Good Time Roll" in Virginia Beach in February.

The second special dance event you won't want to miss is RDTA's annual Snowflake Ball. While we haven't yet completed our planning, we expect this dance will be on a Sunday from 3-5:30 PM in late February or early March. Once a specific date and locale are determined, we will send flyers to our WASCA and MDSDF round dancers via the WASCA and MDSDF google and list serve portals. Come join us to dance with your favorite RDTA cuers in one of our two halls -- a phase II-IV and a phase IV-VI hall. There will also be special goodies to enjoy and tasty liquid refreshments to help make this a very special dance afternoon.

Finally, we will look forward to seeing and dancing with all our WASCA dance friends at the 64th annual WASCA festival-- Duck & Dive in '25 March 20-22 at a new locale -- the Hilton Washing Dulles Airport Hotel in Herndon Virginia. [see the flyer in this issue]. We'll have more on this very special festival in the March/April Calls 'n Cues issue.

Stay safe and healthy and we can enjoy seeing and dancing with everyone on the dance floor in 2025.

Duck 'n' Dive
Literally

This column has explored both ducks and diving, so what's left? Well, how about ducking your head and diving into unknown depths, including catacombs, caverns, and caves?

The world famous Roman catacombs, were originally burial sites, used as early as the 5th century BC. Since Roman law prohibited burials within the city limits, tunnels were excavated for individual tombs, often marked by elaborate roadside monuments. Early Christians chose instead communal, more modest burials, creating networks of tunnels in the soft volcanic rock under the city. The extensive labyrinths became emblems of the early converts' trials and tribulations, and testaments to their hope for life beyond death. Historically, architecturally and spiritually significant, the hundreds of miles of catacombs offer tourists an underground view of the Apian Way, Rome's major highway to the South. A Guide to Rome Catacombs.

Closer to home, and decidedly younger, are the Washington, DC catacombs, created by Franciscan monks for Americans who couldn't afford the trip to Rome but wanted to experience the Holy Land. This underground complex, dedicated in 1898, is located on Quincy Street NE, beneath the Franciscan Monastery of the Holy Land in America. Roman architect Aristides Leonori designed the mini version based on measurements of photos of the Roman originals. Unlike the originals, the tunnels were not excavated, but were cast from aggregate cement, and are composed of three interconnected arcades. Catacombs of Washington DC and The Franciscan Monastery of the Holy Land.

Visitors really do have to duck and dive when visiting Luray Caverns in Va., the largest caverns in the eastern US. Calcite formations, some snow white, enchant visitors by forming cascades, folds, columns and draperies: Titania's Veil, Giant's Hall and extensive stalactites reflected in Dream Lake. The caverns were discovered in 1878 by five local men exploring a limestone outcrop and an adjacent sinkhole expelling cold air. Interestingly, although electrified, the caves stay at a uniform 54 degrees Fahrenheit. Luray is an 'active' cave, constantly accumulating calcite precipitation which collects into formations of pure white, reds, yellows, black, blues and greens, determined by the content of the impurities. Luray Caverns.

Carlsbad Caverns, in southeastern New Mexico, dwarf their Luray counterpart, containing over 119 caves, three of which are open to the public. Discovered in 1898 by teenager Jim White, the caverns and the national park are named after the nearby town of Carlsbad. Over 25 rooms/attractions are named, many accessible to the public: The Hall of the Giants, King's Palace and Mabel's Room. Of particular interest, and observed by this writer, are the hundreds of thousands of bats who exit the caves in gigantic swarms at sunset. The entire swirling exodus of Mexican free-tailed bats takes about three hours and can be watched from the amphitheater, while listening to a ranger describing the bats and their habits. Carlsbad Caverns.

Artists living 17 to 22 thousand years ago used iron oxide, charcoal and ochre to draw on cave walls, creating a permanent record of their natural world. The prehistoric cave drawings, also known as parietal art, in Lascaux, France, a Dordogne city, depict animals (bulls, equines, stags, cattle, felines and more), human figures and abstract designs. Although the interpretation of the images is difficult, anthropologists and art historians believe the images represent hunting successes, or possibly, mystical rituals to ensure the success of future hunts. Lascaux.

Even older cave paintings in the world are located in southeastern France, in the Chauvet-Pont-d'Arc Cave, now a World Heritage Site. Discovered relatively in 1994 by three speleologists (cave explorers), the art dates back 37,000 years. Fossils, prints and animal markings have been preserved alongside the paintings. While the Lascaux inhabitants painted images of familiar herbivores, the Chauvet artists included predatory animals (lions, leopards and bears), and used techniques not found elsewhere: they scraped the surface to create a smoother, lighter canvas. Chauvet Cave.

74th NSDC - Shreveport LA 2025

November was another great month for square dancing and promoting the 74th National Square Dance Convention®. We left Gainesville, Georgia and the Georgia State Convention and headed north to attend the Indiana State Convention. We were able to take a small break along the way and spend a few days in Louisville, Kentucky with our oldest son and his family. We started with the Indiana State Trail End Dance in Scottsburg, Indiana. A beautiful square dance hall which featured Travis Cook, Chuck and Kristy Woods calling. The hall may have been a bit secluded, but a great place to dance! We left Scottsburg and headed to one of the most beautiful dance locations we have danced - the French Lick Springs Resort in French Lick, Indiana. The featured callers were Jack Pladdys and Tony Oxendine. Indiana also adds a Sunday morning dance that featured many of the local state callers and the dance was an absolute blast!

After a short break at home and taking time for some hiking with my brother, a birthday celebration with our 3-year-old granddaughter and dancing with the River City Squares in Ft. Smith, we were off to attend the Oklahoma Square Dance Federation's State Festival in Ardmore, Oklahoma! The dance was held at the beautiful Ardmore Convention Center. I believe this was our fourth trip to Ardmore to dance the past couple of years either at the Convention Center or the State Park and its always a fun place to dance and good to see a lot of our square dance friends.

We received a bonus this year with the next three National Square Dance Conventions[®] all represented at the Oklahoma State Festival. The 74th/Shreveport, 75th/Waco and 76th/Loveland were all in attendance. We are all pictured here with our friend Charlie Robertson.

No dance is really complete without Pa Gator making an appearance. Pa, Ma, Allie and Gator were all in royal form in Ardmore. Pa even danced a few tips. Tonia had to really work to keep them all under wraps and under control.

Tonia and I, along with the entire 74th National Square Dance Convention[®] team, hope you had a truly blessed 2024 and have a very Merry Christmas!

NSDC veterans share advice with first-time attendees

When seeking advice for dancers who may be attending the National Square Dance Convention® for the first time, we used our 74th NSDC Facebook page as a tool and turned to seasoned convention goers for responses. They were asked, “what is one piece of advice you would give to new dancers who have never been to a National Square Dance Convention® before.” We appreciate our Facebook group’s participation and here’s what they had to say:

Tonia Hofmeister from Benton, AR: It’s more fun than you’ll ever imagine, no matter your age!

Brooke Peters from Fruita, CO: It is like Dancers’ Disneyland! So much going on it is hard to choose what to do first – squares, rounds, lines, contra dancing, tours galore around the host city, exciting demonstration dances, dinner shows, a fashion show, festive decorations, extremely useful and informative classes for dances and callers, sewing and craft classes, multiple ways to win prizes, clothing and other quality merchandise vendors and opportunities to meet and dance to nationally and internationally known callers, 36+ hours of dancing over 3 days. Your dancing skills will improve exponentially!

Lee Warriner from northern New York and Canada: You get to meet callers from many places and dancers from all over the world.

Bill Garrison from Indianapolis, IN: Check out the education sessions. They are not just sit-down and listen, some are interactive such as dancing unusual figures.

Tinker Munke from Pittsburg, TX, Mineola Railers: Just GO! You’ll be amazed!

Cinda Asp from Illinois and Arizona: Pace yourself. Use the program book or app to find activities. And if you sew, check out the Sew and Save room, lots of ideas.

Darlene Voosen: Wear comfortable shoes.

Tina Wilkins from Valley, AL: Pace yourself to make it to the after parties each night and with the Ghost Riders Band each night – always a superstar caller lineup! Definitely the best hour of dancing you will get anywhere in the world – all 3 nights! (The Ghost Riders Square Dance Band perform at the Wednesday night Trail End Dance, the Friday night after party, and in the live music hall nightly.)

Sharon Crisel from Missouri: It’s more fun than you know. Been to 28 nationals. Pace yourself and enjoy everything and save your feet for the after parties.

Linda Duncan: Take your time. Callers do not stop.

Bob Hatfield from Ponchatoula, LA: Don’t just dance with your friends. Make new friends, pace yourself and don’t miss the after party dance. We have more fun the last hour on Saturday night in Mobile than the whole weekend.

The National Square Dance Convention® is an opportunity to get on the floor to top dance leaders, take advantage of education and dance workshops, and forge new life-long friendships. Dancers from the Show-Me-State of Missouri during the 73rd NSDC’s Parade of States demonstrate the warm hospitality you will find at any NSDC event.

Sandra Eastwood Smith

January 18, 1938 - November 20, 2024

Sandra Eastwood Smith, beloved wife, mother, grandmother, sister, aunt and friend, went to heaven on November 20, 2024, at the age of 86. Her husband, Douglas E. Smith and daughters were at her bedside. Born on January 18, 1938 in Jersey City, New Jersey, she was the oldest daughter of Sylvander Cecil and Jeanne Tillapaugh Eastwood. Sandy is survived by her husband, Douglas E. Smith and three daughters, Kelly Smith Sweet (Patrick Sweet), Kathryn Smith Segars (David Segars) and Kimberly Smith Bradshaw (Steve Bradshaw) along with five beloved grandchildren. She is also survived by her sister, Elaine Van Blerkom.

Sandy grew up in Woodbury, New Jersey. She and her sister Elaine would often go to Lake Gilman with their family and enjoyed going to Ocean City, New Jersey. The family attended Kemble United Methodist Church. She graduated from Western Maryland College (now McDaniel College) where she met the love of her life, her husband Doug, to whom she was married for 64 years.

Sandy and Doug raised their family in Vienna, Virginia. Sandy taught in Fairfax County Public Schools for 23 years teaching elementary art. She brought art into the home and her daughters fondly remember casting sand candles and making drawings around the kitchen table. Sandy always found time to make after school snacks and there was never a lunch or dinner that she prepared that we didn't all look forward to what was for dessert! She found purpose in her family and her home, filling both with love and beauty.

Sandy found joy in her hobbies of oil and watercolor painting and creating beautiful quilts and decorative quilt patches for her children, grandchildren and others. She was a "giver" with a gentle spirit that was always doing for others. Sandy and Doug enjoyed participating in many activities at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, including preparing hot meals for the homeless, organizing the Young at Heart program, and helping with Vacation Bible School. She was a member of Emmanuel for 60 years. She also enjoyed weekly square dancing with Doug with the Merry Notes, Dixie Stars and other clubs, being with friends in bridge groups, dinner and theater groups, and volunteering at Wolf Trap and in the church office.

Sandy lived with dementia in her final years. Doug was her fearless and steadfast caregiver for eight years in their home until she entered Sunrise in Vienna in March 2024. Her caregiver team gave much love back to Sandy. Doug was her faithful dinner companion at Sunrise and attended her each evening as she went to bed. She will be deeply missed but forever remembered for her unwavering love for her family, her faith and her inner strength.

CHOREO CORNER

with Dick Otis

Touching Hands

Many years ago (2016) I was attending a week-long square dance. Early in the week the caller was frustrated that simple calls were not working for the some of the squares. He announced that in the next tip, he would only call the following call when everyone was touching the appropriate hands for the formation. The result was predictable – almost every call resulted in a stop, many reminders and then everyone touching hands. Eventually, everyone started to use their hands properly and the rest of the week was an outstanding success.

Hand touching is an essential part of square dancing. From the very beginning classes, dancers should be taught to touch hands in order to provide the security of being where they should be and more importantly, so they can visualize the resulting formation after the call.

Notice, I am saying hand-touching not hand-holding. There is a big difference. Most dancers fall into one of three types “The No-Touching”, “The Death-Grippers” and “The-Tappers”.

The “No-Touchers” may feel awkward holding hands with the same sex, or they dislike others sweaty hands, or they may have seen the dancer sneeze on their hand. Many “No-Touchers” when asked, say they have been hurt before by other dancers. This dancer does their own thing and everyone else is on their own. The result is the square formation often breaks down – even an experienced dancer can’t dance if the other seven dancers are lost.

We all know some of the “Death-Gripper” dancers – they hold on tight and sometimes don’t want to let go. To me this is the worse and most dangerous hand-hold. Someone holding on tight is either insecure in their dancing and needs another dancers support, or they have progressed to the stage where they think they are competent dancers and want to “help” other dancers move to the next correct spot in the formation. Either way, if a dancer tries to force another dancer to go where he/she thinks they should go, eventually that dancer or more likely whomever they are holding, is going to get hurt. Size or sex is not as relevant as timing and leverage. At one Advance Level dance, a smaller “experienced” dancer held on to my hand as I turned left – but they wanted me to go right. My arm was twisted behind me, and the resultant jerk on my shoulder resulted in pain for months.

The ultimate destination for dancers should be the finger touch, or “Tapper”. As you dance, reach out and touch or tap the other dancer’s finger-tips. It can be the full four fingers in an “almost hand hold” but the thumbs need to be disengaged. I find that if someone is gripping my hand, I can pull my hand back until I’m just touching their fingers and usually, the dancers will take the hint. Sometimes it is necessary to politely ask them to not grip your hand. I’ve yet to find anyone who takes offense at a polite comment and many dancers are unaware that they are holding on too strongly.

Now that everyone is lightly touching hands properly, we can talk more about why. The answer of course, is square dancing is a group of people working together for common goals, firstly to have fun together and secondly for the satisfaction of being successful.

What make a square successful? I define it as dancing a sequence smoothly and finishing at your home position with your correct partner. There are two components that work together to accomplish this.

The first is the Caller. He or she is challenged with calling interesting choreography at the appropriate level for the floor, in time with the beat of the music, flowing smoothly from formation to formation and resolving everyone at home. Additionally, the Caller can prove “helper words” to insure the proper outcome. Helper words include hints like: what is the ending formation? (I’m looking for lines), who starts the move? (boys start with your right hand), and who is doing a part of the move? (ladies are casting).

The dancers are the second component. All eight must know the movement of the call and move smoothly from position to position appropriately. Notice I didn’t say you must know the definition of the call although knowing the definition is obviously an advantage. We all learn to dance by hearing the definition of a call and seeing the resultant movement. After a while our body develops motor skills and we tend not to think definitions.

So proper touching is both essential and a key to a smooth square dance sequence that finishes correctly. In squares, especially those with less experienced dancers, touching hands ensures you see the resulting formation. A little “nudge” on the finger-tip is often the difference between a dancer turning in the correct or wrong direction. There is little risk of hurting anyone, since a dancer can easily pull their hand away. You should use nudges sparingly however; some dancer might be offended if used too much – since it implies you don’t think they know what to do.

A good example of the importance of touching is the Plus call, Relay The Deucey. This call is a combination of trades and circulates. The center formation of this call is extremely important. If you are in “the wave” moving down the center, you are doing a series of trades (or a cast-off at the end). If you are touching hands in the wave, it’s pretty hard for a dancer to wander off from the middle of the formation. Likewise, the dancer circulating around the outside needs to find the person to touch hands with in order to join the wave, or finish the end of the two parallel ocean waves. Touching is even more important, if you happen to be doing say, a left-handed Relay The Deucey.

While regardless of your Program Level (Mainstream, Plus, Advance etc.) touching hand is important and usually results in a successful square. Try it, you’ll like it!

Forty-eight clubs are currently full members of WASCA, plus one probationary new club, and 2 clubs that have officially folded. The Spinning Windmills club has folded but may be reactivated at a later date. Wagon Wheelers have also officially folded but may get together next camping season.

Several clubs will be having theme dances for the 2025 WASCA Festival "Duck & Dive in '25". The Festival will be here soon. We hope you have all registered. Check out this issue for locations of those clubs that will be having theme dances in January and February

We hope that you have been enjoying dancing this Fall and are looking forward to dancing this January and February. There are a lot of articles about staying healthy. Dancing is certainly one way to stay healthy. Dancing is good physically as well as mentally. If you haven't been dancing for awhile, check out clubs in your area to see when the next classes are offered. Then go and attend! Maybe all you need is to hear the calls again and you will be back to dancing.

The WASCA Delegates meeting will be held virtually on February 16, 2025. Delegates please be sure to check in by using the link sent to you before the meeting. The WASCA secretary will send out the link and minutes. This is the annual meeting where the WASCA Board is elected. Promote your club by telling the other delegates about your clubs' planned dances and other activities that your club is doing.

We would like to encourage dancers to volunteer to serve on the WASCA Board as well as in their local clubs. Several in the WASCA area are also active in various national organizations. We would like to see our clubs and organizations thrive by getting more people into square and round dancing. Volunteer and help your club and square and round dance organizations.

If your President/Manager, Delegate, or Alternate Delegate changes or has a change in address, etc. during the year, please send us the new name with the address, phone number and email address. We need the correct information so that we can send the WASCA Secretary the up to date information that she needs to email or mail the Delegate's minutes for the next meeting.

If you need further information or have a question about or correction for the Calls 'n' Cues Club Directory or WASCAclubs web site, please email us at membership@wascaclubs.com. You can text, call, or leave a message for Tom at 703-217-4791 or Nancy at 703-217-1670.

49th Annual Toys-for-Tots Benefit Dance

The 49th annual Toys for Tots Benefit Dance was held Sunday, December 8, at a new venue, Glemont United Methodist Church in Silver Spring, MD. A special thanks to Bill Houston and the SSD Sunday Square Dances, for booking the hall.

Dancers donated over 100 toys and $1100. A representative of the Marine Corps League and the Montgomery County program coordinator came to pick up the toys and thank the dancers for making Christmas brighter for local children.

We dedicated this year's dance to the memory of Mac McCall, who with his wife Phyllis, supported this dance for decades. Phyllis, and other family members attended and shared memories of his many square dance adventures.

Callers for the dance were Gary Felton, Virgil Forbes, Dick Otis, Chris Stacy, and Jim Wass. Cuers were Christina Eum and Ken and Berni Ryder. Linda and Steve Toth and Anne Giancoli raised money by selling delicious refreshments. Many of the attendees also pitched in to get the room set up for dancing and put everything back in place at the end.

The dance is sponsored by the National Capital Area Square Dance Leaders Association and the Washington Area Square Dancers Cooperative Association.

Directors Jim & Ann Wass are so grateful to the staff, dancers, and other supporters for making this and previous editions so successful. We hope to see you next year on Sunday, December 7!

RYDER'S ROUNDERS

Ken Ryder

Ryder's Rounders at St B's continue to dance phase II-IV [with an occasional special phase V] on the new beautiful wood floor in the Richardson Room at St Barnabas Episcopal Church -- 4801 Ravensworth Rd, Annandale VA -- every Thursday from 7-9:30 PM. We also love to party featuring special thematic dances and tasty treats to reflect specific holidays. Club members and intermediate workshop dancers enjoyed our annual Christmas Party Dance on Sunday, December 15 with special "seasonal" dances and some delicious treats. All dancers enjoyed not only the friendship and warmth of the combined groups and the "seasonal" dances, but also delicious "goodies" and the special "cookie exchange". Dancers also left with unique Holiday flower arrangements that Berni designed for each of them. Come join us Thursday evenings at St B's whenever you can.

We will continue our intermediate workshops on Sundays from 6-7:00 PM with class level dancing from 7:00-8:30 reflecting rhythms previously reviewed. Our intermediate workshop will complete reviewing phase III/IV Bolero figures in January and will begin reviewing phase III-IV foxtrot figures in February. We also have an intermediate workshop and dance at Greenspring Senior Community in Springfield VA every Monday afternoon from 1:00 -3:00 PM. We're currently reviewing phase IV foxtrot figures. Call Berni and Ken for more information regarding their intermediate workshops.

Without our normal venue on Monday evenings, we have continued our "virtual/distance" round dancing using JITSI web meeting technology with many of our Ryders Rounders and other dancers from outside the WASCA area, including Virginia Beach, Charlottesville, Florida, and Canada.. Our "virtual" dances begin at 7:30 PM every Monday night. If you wish to join in, send Ken an e-mail at kfryder@cox.net so that he can include you on his e-mail invitation list.

We invite all round dancers to join us in-person at Greenspring or St Barnabas or virtually on Monday evenings. If you have any questions or need more information about the clubs, the workshops, or beginner dance lessons, please call Berni and Ken at 703 323-6615.

SUNDAY SQUARE DANCES

Bill Houston

Sunday Dancers is off to a good start. We had five regular dances in the fall with the last normal dance in November having more than three squares in attendance. We finished off the fall in December hosting an even larger group for the Toys for Tots benefit in our normal venue on our usual Sunday. Sunday Dancers is a member of WASCA and is working on becoming a member of MDSDF as well.

The goals of the group are multiple - providing a daytime schedule in a convenient location, a variety of callers and a place for dancers to have fun without pressure to rapidly move up. During breaks we often workshop calls the dancers need help with. Tips are mostly SSD with occasional PLUS tips.

For variety we concluded one dance with an introduction to Contra tip as a preview of Contra being included in WASCA 2025. On another Sunday one square of PLUS dancers stayed afterwards to workshop an advance call.

In the first half of 2025 we will be dancing on Jan 12th, Feb 9th and 23rd, March 9th, April 13th and 27th and May 11th and 25th. We are not dancing on March 23rd because it is the WASCA weekend. As this is being written Jim Wass and Chris Stacy will definitely be returning and we are working on having ETT McATEE call as well.

Dances are held at the Glenmont United Methodist Church, 12901 Georgia Ave Silver Spring, MD 20906 from 2:30 PM to 4:30 PM. Dances are on most but not all second and fourth Sundays of the month. The cost is $10 per afternoon.
